

Publication Review Program

Submit your magazine, journal, or newsletter to Association Media & Publishing’s Publications Review Program, and you’ll receive a comprehensive, objective evaluation of editorial content, overall design, and layout from Don Ranly, Ph.D. Dr. Ranly has been a professor of journalism at the Missouri School of Journalism for the past 25 years and has a distinct knowledge of association publishing and its unique challenges and opportunities.

His review will address all facets of your publication, from the cover art, table of contents, editorial content, and headlines, to overall design and layout. Completed within a one month timeframe, this comprehensive review will provide you with an issue of your publication with notations and comments, and an extensive audiotape review of the publication.

To take advantage of this exciting opportunity, please provide the following:

- The publication’s mission statement
- A description of the target audience
- Three issues of your publication from within a 12-month period. You will receive one reviewed copy back. (Please do not submit convention or special issues.)
